

Dumfries and Galloway Council

Duke of Edinburgh's Award

Strategy 2021 – 2026

Foreword

It gives me great pleasure to introduce Dumfries & Galloway Council's Duke of Edinburgh's Award Strategy 2021-2026. The strategy will provide young people, volunteers, professionals and practitioners with direction as to how the Duke of Edinburgh's Award will operate in Dumfries and Galloway over the coming years, and the crucial and significant impacts it has for young people across our region.

The strategy has incorporated the views of citizens, customers, staff and partners, especially those concerned with the Duke of Edinburgh's Award and those who are involved in its delivery, regarding the current and future delivery of the award in our region. We have been committed to ensuring that all stakeholder views shaped the development of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Strategy 2021-2026, so that we can best support the needs of all young people involved in the Duke of Edinburgh's Award programme in our region, in partnership with communities.

Our Council is committed to ensuring that the Duke of Edinburgh's Award continues to grow, and it is adapted to meet the needs of young people who undertake their DofE programme and that the volunteers who support the Award are fully supported

We are exceptionally thankful to all partners and volunteers who work collaboratively on the Duke of Edinburgh's Award across Dumfries & Galloway to enhance the opportunities and experiences we are able to provide to young people in our region, and we are committed to ensuring the continued long term sustainability of the Award in Dumfries & Galloway.

Councillor Adam Wilson, Young People's Champion

Introduction

What is the DofE?

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award is a national youth charity that supports over 300,000 people aged 14-24 every year to undertake their Bronze, Silver or Gold DofE Award. The ethos of the Award programme is to enable every young person irrespective of background to take part in a DofE programme and to accomplish, regardless of any barriers that may be present in their lives. Participation helps to instil a sense of adventure and have a lasting impact on young people's behaviour, skills and life chances.

The DofE mission is to inspire, guide and support young people in their self-development and recognise their achievements. Anyone aged between 14 and 24 can do a programme at one of the three progressive levels which, when successfully completed, lead to a Bronze, Silver or Gold Duke of Edinburgh's Award. There are four sections at Bronze and Silver level and five at Gold.

Young people will achieve a Duke of Edinburgh's Award if they show persistence, commitment and personal development over a period of time. Every activity must be successfully completed and assessed. The result is the world's leading achievement award for young people, recognised by employers and universities alike. Completing a DofE programme enables young people to develop skills for life and work, supporting young people to develop resilience, confidence and a 'can do' attitude as well as the social and communication skills that businesses are calling out for.

DofE programmes are delivered in the UK under licence by over 1,200 partners (Licensed Organisations, including Dumfries and Galloway Council) in over 13,000 DofE centres such as youth clubs, voluntary organisations, schools, academies, colleges, universities, young offender institutions and businesses, which are run and supported by around 50,000 adult volunteers.

Under the Council's license, around 430 young people are enrolled in the programme in Dumfries and Galloway per year. As of May 2021, Dumfries and Galloway Council operates 16 DofE Centres through Schools and community based Open Centres run by Youth Work Service.

The Youth Work Service has overall strategic responsibility for the Award within our Council and has responsibility for development and oversight of the award including expeditions and staffing.

Purpose of this Strategy

'Youth Without Limits' is the DofE's national strategy for 2021-26 and our strategy for Dumfries and Galloway Council aims to contribute to the objectives of the National Strategy, to set out how our Council has been running the Duke of Edinburgh's Award across our region, and how we will build on the delivery of the DofE moving forward. We will ensure that young people are at the centre of shaping of our provision, informing what that will look like as a model in practice for Dumfries & Galloway. A co-production model will be centre to our DofE approach in coming years.

Our strategy puts young people at the heart of DofE and is clearly aligned with the national strategy which is key to its identity. The strategy itself is a direct result of widespread stakeholder engagement with young people who access the Award currently, young people who don't or haven't accessed the Award, parents, Elected Members, adult volunteers, youth workers and Schools.

The COVID-19 pandemic has placed a refocused lens on the importance of supporting young people's mental health, qualifications, friendships and future. Outdoor education and the balanced structure of DofE programmes contribute greatly to supporting young people and their futures, and it is vital to ensure that we are working harder than ever to engage young people in the Duke of Edinburgh's Award, irrespective of their circumstance or background. We must also place a strong emphasis on the benefits and positive impact that taking part in the award has on the lives of our young people. Over the next 5 years, we want to make the DofE more accessible and relevant, giving more young people in Dumfries and Galloway the chance to participate in a life changing DofE programme.

Within this Strategy, we will focus on our 4 strategic goals:

- Access
- Communication
- Quality
- Value

We will also place a focus on our key strategic drivers to be people-powered and values led; be data-driven and innovative and be financially sustainable.
